

Employers Against Domestic Violence

Invites Our Members and Friends to Join Us For Our
May Membership Meeting

Role of Bystander Intervention in the Prevention of Domestic Violence

Please join us for an informative discussion on the role of the bystander, how to empower yourselves and your employees to take a stand and make changes in your workplace for a safer and supportive environment for all.

May 19, 2010
2:00 - 4:00 p.m.

Massachusetts General Hospital
Their Conference Room
55 Fruit Street
Boston, MA 02114

click here for MGH campus map

*Their Conference Room is located through the
Their Entrance off of the main courtyard or from Blossom St.*

REGISTER NOW

Robert Eckstein, MS

Professor, Psychology and Justice Studies Lead Trainer and Curriculum Development Specialist, Prevention Innovations University of New Hampshire

Mr. Eckstein will draw from theory and recent research in exploring the role that pro-social bystanders can play in the prevention of domestic violence as well as providing tools that aid people in supporting domestic violence victims.

MGH Men Against Abuse organization

Validated parking available in the MGH Parkman garage
(see MGH campus map link above) and light refreshments will be served.

This event is free of charge and made possible by EADV Membership dues and by the generosity of Massachusetts General Hospital and Verizon Wireless New England.

About Employers Against Domestic Violence

Employers Against Domestic Violence ("EADV") is a non-profit membership organization uniting Massachusetts employers with experts in the field of domestic and workplace violence prevention. EADV identifies and recommends national and local best practices in the areas of public policy, prevention, intervention and training in order to help employers address the effects of violence on the workplace.

Visit our EADV website

How To Contact

Employers Against Domestic Violence

website: www.eadvMA.org

email: eadvinfo@comcast.net

phone: 508.894.6322

Mailing Address For

Employers Against Domestic Violence

PO Box 2941

Worcester, MA 01613